

Life Is Like a Jar of Pickles Closure Questions

Use group presentations and what you have learned during this lesson to answer the following questions.

1. Recommend ways that humans could minimize the impact of a jar of pickles on the Earth's systems.

2. What if you could change the way a jar of pickles was created? What changes would you make that would improve our quality of life?

3. Explain how the creation of a jar of pickles is connected to your quality of life.

4. Think of a product or service that you use frequently. Briefly examine and list what impacts that product has on the Earth's systems and how it affects our quality of life from what you learned during this lesson. With those impacts and effects in mind, would you change your use of this product or service?
