

Media Report Criteria for Assessment

Write your findings on a chart like the one provided, or you may choose another kind of visual display. Make sure that your report has variety and analyzes different forms of violence such as the kind in songs, or magazines.

Make a team report and share it with the class.

_____1. Report shows evidence of at least three television programs, or 6 magazines, or three news programs, or 6 songs on one radio station.

_____2. Report identifies factors that team believes reflect violence (see comment section on chart. Examples include: ethnic group was put down, those using profanity were portrayed as 'cool.')

_____3. Report involves all team members as data collectors.

_____4. Report includes all team members as data analyzers.

_____5. Report includes all team members as presenters.

_____6. Report includes a letter to the television, radio, or record producer, or magazine editor, sharing the teams' findings, with at least two recommendations.

_____7. Report includes two references about the effect of violence on children.

_____8. Report includes suggestions for the use of the report (e.g. how and for whom it might be helpful)

_____9. Report provides one personal reflection by each team member about his/her thoughts or feeling about their research.
