

Eco the Gecko Bulletin Board Pattern – This pattern may be used with an opaque projector to produce a bulletin board sized Eco the Gecko puzzle.

Text for Eco the Gecko Puzzle Pieces

The teacher will need to use a word processor and print out the following text for each section of the Eco the Gecko bulletin board puzzle. After printing the text, cut around it if necessary to make it fit the puzzle piece. Then glue each section of text on the correct puzzle piece. It is suggested that all puzzle pieces also be laminated to increase durability.

Beginning to the left of the head piece of the puzzle:

Section 1:

People work to earn money.

They are producers.

They make or grow goods.

They provide services by doing things to help others.

Section 2:

People spend their money on goods and services they want and need. They are called consumers.

Section 3:

Sometimes there is not enough of something to go around. Then there is a scarcity and people have to make choices.

Section 4:

Markets are any places or meetings where producers and consumers exchange goods and services, usually for money.

Section 5:

People around the world depend upon each other for the exchange of goods and services to meet their wants and needs.
