

COMMUNICATION CHECKLIST

1. The student correctly identifies the problem in a given situation.
2. The student uses non-threatening words to express need, want, or feelings.
3. The student uses verbal language that communicates care and consideration of others.
4. The student uses kind, non-threatening facial expressions to communicate need, want, or feelings.
5. The student uses kind, non-threatening body gestures to express need, want, or feelings.
6. Student verbal communication is a clear, correct expression of given situation.
7. Student facial expressions are a correct match to given situation.
8. Student body gestures are a correct match to given situation.