

The Hokey Geo-key

Put your left foot out.

Pull your right foot in.

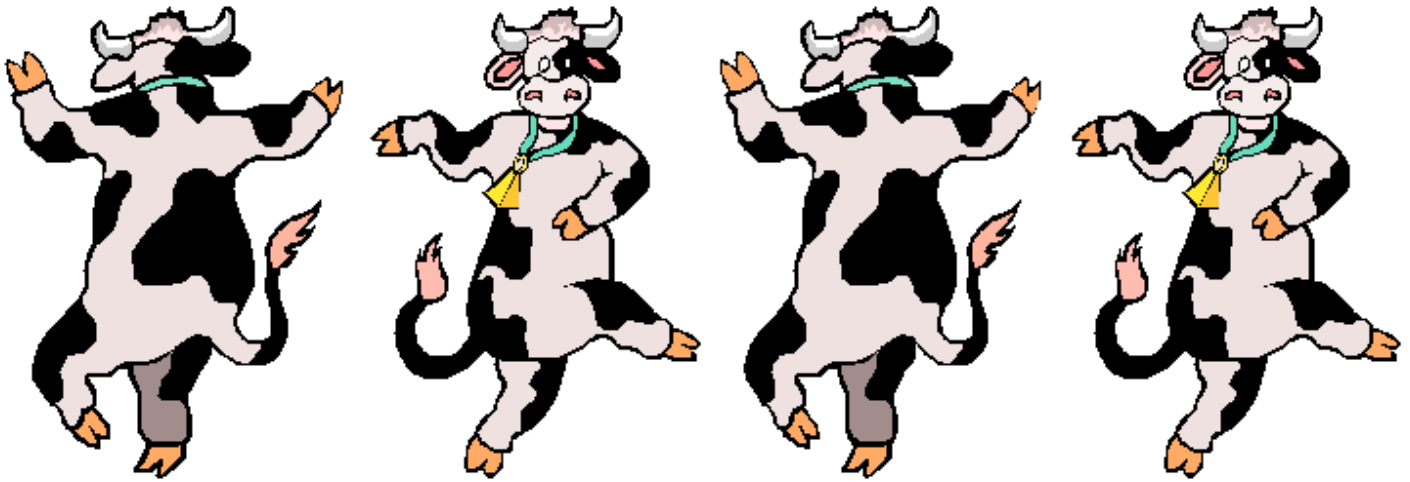

Put your left foot out.

Right foot in again.

Don't change your size or
shape as you

Slide yourself around,

That's what slides all about.

Put your left foot out.
Leave your right foot there.
Use your right foot now,
To push you, face about.
Don't change your size or
shape as you
Flip yourself around.
That's what flips all about.

Put your left foot out.
Leave your right foot there.
Use your left foot now,
To push everywhere.
Don't change your size or
shape as you
Push yourself around.
That's what turns all about.

Don't change your size or shape.

Don't change your size or shape.

Don't change your size or shape.

That's what congruent's all about! Yeah!

Literacy Link

Dear Mom and Dad,

We are doing an integrated unit in which we are learning about geometry, reading for information, and social studies. Today we learned many new words. To help us remember what they mean, we learned the song 'Hokey Geo-key.' We read the words and danced to the tune of "Hokey Pokey." Please let me read it to you so you can do the dance with me. Learning the song teaches me about slide, flip, turn, and congruent. The pictures show repeating and rotating patterns. There is also a pattern in the words to the song. Do you know what it is?

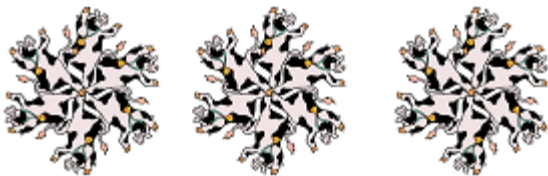

The Hokey Geo-key

1. Put your left foot out.
Pull your right foot in.
Put your left foot out.
Right foot in again.
Don't change your size or shape as you
Slide yourself around.
That's what slides all about.

2. Put your left foot out.
Leave your right foot there.
Use your right foot now.
To push you, face about.
Don't change your size or shape as you
Flip yourself around.
That's what flips all about.

3. Put your left foot out.
Leave your right foot there.
Use your left foot now,
To push everywhere.
Don't change your size or shape as you
Push yourself around.
That's what turns all about.

4. Don't change your size or shape.
Don't change your size or shape.
Don't change your size or shape.
That's what congruent's all about
Yeah!